Chamber Asks City Council To Employ Full Time Officer

The Hondo city council, meeting in regular session Thursday night, was asked by representatives of the Chamber of Commerce to employ a full-time city officer.

Mayor Bob Kollman said that the council, in hearing the recommendation, realized the need of an officer to help enforce traffic regulations and ordinances in the city. The matter will be brought up at a later date for discussion and final action, the mayor said.

The council also continued the discussion of a parking lot opposite the businesses on Highway 90 on the south side of the Southern Pacific railroad. The railroad has agreed to allow such a lot on its property, but will grant only a lease for 30 days. Meeting railroad company and highway department specifications would necessitate building barriers on the north and south sides of the parking lot, and constructing exits and entrances at the east and west ends, Kollman said. The council will consider the matter under advisement after disposing of it, he stated.

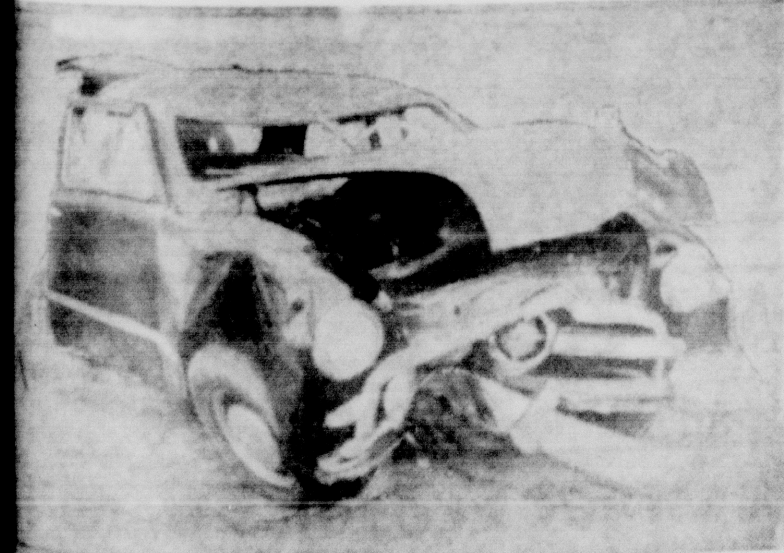

The Chamber also asked the city to investigate the possibility of installing fluorine to the water supply in order that dental cavities might be reduced. Dr. T. B. Knopp, representing the Chamber's committee on health, was asked to gather additional information on the project and to report at a later meeting.

Representing the Chamber at the meeting were Dr. Knopp and N. P. Jones, president.

CHARLES FINGER NAMED HONDO BANK DIRECTOR

Charles Finger was named a director of the Hondo National Bank at a meeting of the board on May 15. He succeeds the late John M. Finger who had been a director since the formation of the Hondo National Bank.

Other bank directors are W. F. Miller, J. H. Burgin, Frank X. Jones and Elmer J. Leinweber.

FOUR HURT IN WRECK—Four University of Texas students were injured in a wreck a mile west of Hondo Sunday morning about 4 o'clock on Highway 90. All required hospitalization, but were released early in the week.

The students, Robert V. Lee of Dallas, Martha Monday of Amarillo, Frances Hackney of Fort Worth, and Bill DeJernett of Dallas, were reported enroute to Mexico.

The car was a complete loss because of damage caused when it hit a culvert and overturned.

Salvation Army Drive To Conclude May 26

Walter J. Hayt

D'Hanis F. F. A. Holds Election

D'HANIS—New officers for the year beginning July 1 were elected recently by the D'Hanis chapter of Future Farmers of America.

They are Robert Rothe, president; J. C. Biry, vice-president; Gerald Batto, secretary; David McGraw, treasurer; James Finger, reporter; Milton Schultz, parliamentarian; Hubert Nester, second vice-president; Clyde Lutz, third vice-president; Herman Schmidt, historian; and Hillary Huser, sentinel.

The annual drive for funds of the Salvation Army in Medina County began Wednesday and will continue through Saturday, May 26.

Walter J. Hayt, field representative, spoke at the Hondo Lions Club Wednesday, and explained that one-third of all money collected here would remain in the county for use by the local committees.

Hayt told of the work done by the Salvation Army, including aid to transients, young girls and unwed mothers, prisoners, people in distress, etc. He said that needy boys and girls of school age are often helped by providing eye examination, glasses, dental service, hearing aids, and other health services.

The Salvation Army is nearly always the first to arrive at the scene of a disaster to offer help. Hayt reported, as they have a number of mobile canteen units set up throughout the state to answer calls.

The Salvation Army's county committee is headed by Jack Fusselman as chairman and J. H. Burgin as treasurer. Local committees are as follows: Hondo — W. T. Crow, George M. Dawson, C. F. Schweers, O. A. Fly, Hugh H. Meyer, Bob Kollman, Pete Knowles, Jake Schuehle, and W. F. Gaudin.

The program will open with the national anthem, followed by the advancement of colors, pledge of allegiance, and invocation. After remarks by the post commander, a scripture reading will be given and a reading, "Flander's Field," offered. Other items on the program include a quartet, reading, and solo, "My Buddy."

Rev. Bonas, pastor of the Community Church, will make an address. Thirty seconds of silent prayer will be observed, and the program will be concluded with taps, retirement of colors, and the benediction.

Methodist Set Vacation Bible School June 4-15

The public is invited to an evening of fellowship and entertainment at the First Methodist Church this Thursday night, May 17, when the Methodist Youth Fellowship sponsors a special program.

Beginning at 8 o'clock p. m., a sound-and-color film, "The Shortest Way Home," will be shown free of charge in the social hall. The 40-minute film presents several of the most striking scenic spots of the United States, woven together with a love story. A period of recreation will follow the picture.

The annual Vacation Bible School of the First Methodist Church is scheduled for June 4-15, according to the pastor, William Arthur Cox. The school was previously scheduled for June 11-22.

Mrs. T. C. Barnes has been named general director, and courses will be offered for nursery, beginners, primaries, and juniors.

Rev. Cox says the last regular worship service of the church year will be held Sunday morning. His sermon subject is "The Recovery of Urgency." Sunday evening services have been dismissed in favor of the baccalaureate service at the high school.

The annual conference for all Methodist Churches in Southwest Texas meets in San Antonio May 23-27, Rev. Cox said.

$15,000 Extra Asked To Build Castro School

CASTROVILLE—An official meeting of the Castroville Rural High School board of trustees has been called for three p. m. Monday, May 21, to discuss details of construction on the new high school. At an unofficial meeting Wednesday, May 17, the contractor told the board that he wanted $15,000 additional to build the school according to the original specifications.

Rev. Lorfing Leads Memorial Day Rites

Special Memorial Day services will be conducted at the cemetery on Wednesday afternoon, May 30, by Rev. M. J. Lorfing. The service is being held in cooperation with the American Legion.

Rev. Lorfing will announce complete details next week.

That "winning smile" was all over the face of Castroville's Ralph L. (Blackie) Tschirhart, coach of the state champion Comets baseball team. The picture was made in Castroville Monday, after the series in Houston at which his team won the state title. See sport page for complete details.

Some Crops Hurt By Hail, High Water

The weather continued as the rains in Medina County as the strong winds and rain Tuesday and Wednesday, with hail in some areas.

A round-up of the various communities shows the rain was general in nature, although some localities reported more than others.

YANCEY

J. Hardt, J. D. Baxter and T. Wiemers lost a windmill due to the strong winds and rain Tuesday and Wednesday. Frank Martin's barn was blown down, according to Mrs. Ward Wednesday. The Crains reported a heavier rain at their home near the Hondo creek. 45 turkeys, the smokehouse and the roof off their barn were blown away, and trees had fallen in the yard around the house. A gallon can standing in the yard measured approximately 18 inches of rain.

Leroy Faserer reported 10 inches of rain and hail. Clarence Muenink says he had 9 inches west of town; Betty Tulloch announced 12 inches south of town. Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Childress measured 5 inches in town, and north of here 9 inches fell.

Many of the school children were forced to spend the night in town due to the fact that the bus was unable to make its rounds. Many Latin American families had to leave their homes.

Squirrel Creek overflowed and came up to Mrs. Elbert Wilson's home. She says this had never happened before. Mrs. Mary Grunewald reportedly lost some chickens.

The schoolhouse was unharmed; however, many trees had fallen in the schoolyard.

CASTROVILLE

"Rain. Rain. Rain. It continues to come," Miss Ruth Lawler writes.

"Over 3 1/2 inches had fallen in Castroville city limits within the past 24 hours. The river is up as it was last week.

"Snakes are taking to higher and drier land. A rattlesnake and coral snake were killed on the Lawler-Lionberger farm, and it appeared that they had come up from the river bottom. The tanks are no longer dry holes."

DUNLAY

Rain this past week amounted to 2.10 and was still falling Tuesday morning.

NATALIA

E. H. Whittington, Natalia correspondent, wrote that "rain fall measures 2 inches at 9:30 a. m. Tuesday. Looks like more overhead, and everybody in town all smiles this morning."

BIRY

BIRY—Ten inches of rain was reported by Frank Rihn, whose business place was flooded Tuesday about noon. His steps were washed away, and across from the Haass store a family had to be moved out as the water ran into their home as it crossed highway 173.

About six and three-quarters inches of rain fell at the Armin Bendele place Tuesday, four inches of it coming during the noon hour. Fences, terraces and crops were damaged, while hail damage was reported at the O. K. Schmidt, Alfred Bader and Joe Wernette farms.

Hondo creek was over the road, but it was not as high as last week.

Mrs. Alfred Bader at Biry reported 5" of rain on May 15. It also hailed for about 20 minutes.

D'HANIS

Serious damage to fields, fences and growing crops resulted from heavy rains in the entire area Tuesday morning. Parker's Creek ran high and the Seco River was also on the rise.

The heaviest downpour fell over Kincheloe Prairie. The storm also disrupted the entire telephone system except for one or two telephone lines.

There was no rain Tuesday night.

DEVINE

Rain amounting to 3.58 inches fell here Tuesday. The heaviest fell around noon and was accompanied by strong winds and some hail. No damage from either has been reported. Northwest of town, the rainfall was heavier, and all creeks reported out of banks. Train traffic was held up at Moore due to a washout and passengers transferred to buses.

A check on Wednesday morning by Mrs. Joy Tilley, Devine correspondent, reported that hail damaged some crops. Arthur Poerner and Clem Howard said their crops were hurt some, and Iris Foster brought in melons ruined by hail four miles west of town.

Hartley Howard had six inches of rain. Jack Tilley's field in the Black Creek community was badly damaged by washing rain and his wind mill blown down. Plenty of stock water during the summer months is apparent with reports that tanks are full and running over.

Other damage was reported by Clyde DuBose of Black Creek, roof blown off his house; W. K. Williams in the edge of town, barn blown down; W. H. Baker, shed blown down; and Temple Adams, large tree uprooted at his home with part of the sidewalk torn up.

THE WEATHER

Roy Wilson of Yancey apparently lost ten cattle during the storm, and was not able to find them.
He did not know whether they had been swept down the creek or not. Many cattle were out on the roads due to fences being down in the Yancey area.
Yancey's Methodist church was being redecorated, and the floors had just been sanded, but had not yet been varnished. The rain blew in and stood on the raw wood and probably ruined the floor.
The Buss lane was blocked by large trees that were blown down.
During Tuesday's heavy rain one of Ed Stiegler's cows pastured at the Hondo airfield touched a guy wire that was connected to a 2400 volt power line. The cow was electrocuted, and after the rain was over, Jim Ambrson and two of his ranch hands were almost given the same treatment.
They tried to pull the cow away,
and were shocked by the electricity that was still leaking into the guy wire. It was believed that the rain caused the electricity to short around the insulators on the wire.

County Short On
Red Cross Goal

Medina County fell far below the $2,897 goal set by the American Red Cross in the drive just completed. Receipts to date from all communities shows that only $1,127.11 was collected. Mrs. E. W.
Brucks reports.
As in the past, contributions in Hondo made up more than half the total as $592.58 was collected.
Other reports were as follows: La-
Coste, $135.62; D'Hanis, $110.25;
Castroville, $102.96; Devine, $73.40;
Natalia, 47.25; Dunlay, $37; Yancey,
$10.50; Rio Medina, $6.80; Mico,

Mrs. Joe Steinle Gives Her Recipe For Fruit Cookies, White Fruit Cake

WHITE FRUIT CAKE

1 cup butter
2 cups sugar
4 eggs
3 cups flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 cup milk
2 teaspoons vanilla
1/2 cup white raisins
1/2 cup dark raisins
1/2 cup walnuts
1/2 cup almonds
1 cup pecans
1 cup cherries

FRUIT COOKIES

1 cup butter
2 cups sugar
2 eggs
2 tablespoons sour milk
3 cups flour
1 teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon all spice

BY GLENA REILY

Mrs. Joe Steinle's cookies and cake were sent to many far away places, "even up to Iceland," and they were eagerly welcomed by the boys and their buddies in the service. A group who shared a box of her cookies at one military base asked for her recipe to send home so their mothers could bake them, too. The cookies sometimes reached foreign countries in crumbs, but the crumbs were still popular.

"If you want to add pecans, that makes the cookies just that much better."

In making the white fruit cake to send overseas, she substituted a cup of fruit juice for the milk so it would keep longer. She suggests, "If you wish, you can add 1-3 cup lemon peel, 1-3 cup orange peel and 1-3 cup citron. We don't care for it, so I don't use it."

Her many interests include "drawing house plans to scale, arranging flowers, gardening, painting in oil, collecting recipes, and baking angel food cake for our church dinners."

She is also a football enthusiast and laughs about the "chills and thrills" some of the games have given her.

"My mother and both grandmothers were very fine in doing all kinds of sewing, both by hand and machine." It was natural that the little girls in the family were instructed early in the art of ex-

1/2 cup dates
1/2 cup figs

Cream butter and add sugar, creaming them together. Add well beaten egg yolks. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Add vanilla and floured nuts and fruits. Bake in round cake pan 1 to 1 1/4 hours, or until done (when a tooth pick comes out clean) in a moderate oven. Ice all over with plain white icing and ornament with pieces of citron and candied cherries, or leave it plain.

Cream butter and sugar, add the slightly beaten eggs, and soda dissolved in the sour milk. Then add the sifted dry ingredients, and stir in the raisins last. Drop by teaspoon on a greased cookie sheet, and bake in a moderate oven till done.

quisite needle work, and they sewed by hand a long time before they were allowed to use the machine. Mrs. Steinle liked to make complete wardrobes including hats and stockings for her dolls.

"My two sisters and I had eighteen dolls. I still like them, and every Christmas I enjoy walking up and down the streets and looking at the dolls in the stores."

She recalls taking all day to go to San Antonio with her father in a wagon with a load of corn, spending the night there, and riding all the next day to get home again.

"But we didn't go anywhere very often. It took so long."

The Christmas trees of her childhood were always lit with candles on Christmas and again for New Year. There were four windows in the room and they looked like four mirrors, each reflecting a tree full of glowing candles. Cookies of many shapes with colored icing and tiny baskets of candy were also on the tree.

When she was four or five years old, she saw a train while she was visiting an aunt and exclaimed, "On that thing I'm going to ride one day!" It was several years before she realized her ambition. The train ride she had was a special excursion to New Braunfels for a Fourth of July celebration at Landa Park, and later she went to New Orleans and to

Two are mountain scenes, one from the snowy Swiss Alps and the other from Estes Park, Colo. Another picture that she treasures is a portrait by a professional artist of her son, Carl, sketched in an army hospital ward after his return from Italy.

Commenting that she grew up on a ranch, she added, "I love horses and cattle, wild flowers, birds, wild animals and everything that goes with the wide open spaces. In fact the cow country is written all over me!"

St. Louis High Wins State Title

Comets Beat States Best Catholic Teams

The Castroville Comets of St. Louis High School beat the best Catholic teams in the state of Texas to emerge as champions of the State Catholic Baseball Tournament in Houston Saturday.

The Comets, with their undefeated ace, Ronnie Keller, on the mound turned back Corpus Christi Academy 3-0 Friday. Keller, who hasn't lost a game in 2½ years, gave up three hits, walked none and struck out 13. Never in trouble, the 17-year-old right-hander baffled the Corpus team with a change of pace pitch that consistently caught the outside corner, and only one runner reached second base.

Backing up Keller, the St. Louis boys played errorless ball in the first game, and Hans and Stein contributed doubles.

Castroville met the powerful St. Edwards team of Austin for the championship. Tommy Jungmann took the mound and proved tough as he allowed only two hits while striking out nine. Ronnie Keller, played second base, batted in what proved to be the winning run in the second inning, although the Comets added insurance runs in the fifth and sixth.

Jungmann lost a shut-out when Reyes stole home in the sixth frame.

The states' best Catholic teams were entered in the tournament, and each had beaten public school competition in their home towns.

St. Edwards reached the finals by beating Central Catholic of San Antonio. Other schools represented were St. Thomas of Houston and Kirwin High of Galveston.

Lions Rally To Nip Castroville

A rally late in the game gave Hondo a 6-3 victory over Castroville Sunday in a Highway League game. The Lions put together five hits, including Bob Zerr's two-run double in the eighth inning to go ahead of the Indians after trailing throughout the game.

Cliff Sadler and Red Boehme tangled in a pitcher's duel for three innings before Castroville pushed across a run in the top of the fourth when M. Rihn walked with the bases loaded. Two more runs crossed the plate in the seventh Rihn tripled, Hondo committed two errors, and Tschirhart singled.

The Lions began to catch up in their half of the seventh and trailed only 3-1 as Zerr scored after walking. The fifth-inning uprising, sparked by singles by H. Finger, Tommy Finger, and Schuehle, and Zerr's double turned the tide.

Hilmer Mueller finished for Hondo, yielding two hits and no runs in the final two frames, giving him his third consecutive relief-role victory.

Here are the fiery Castroville Comets, the team that has flashed across the Texas baseball heavens with 17 straight wins. They copped the state Catholic school league pennant in Houston last weekend, after winning the regional title in Laredo earlier.

Teams that made the Catholic league finals were such cities as San Antonio, Corpus Christi, Galveston and Austin and they had all defeated not only other Catholic schools, but also the public schools in each of their towns.

Second row: Maurice Hans, Tom Jungman, Billy Tschirhart and Raymond Hoog. First string catcher Gerald Haby was absent when the picture was made.

Faseler Fans 15, Yancey Wins 7-2

Yancey remained undefeated Friday night with a 7-2 victory over Sinclair as Johnny Faseler struck out 15 Oilers and allowed but two hits. They Jaycees dropped their first game, 13-7, and Chapman took over second place in the Hondo Softball League.

Faseler hurled no-hit ball for five innings after Schmidt singled in the first, but he lost a shutout as Schmidt led off the seventh with a hit, took second on an error, and scored on two wild pitches.

The Harvesters raked Allan Nelson for 10 hits, including doubles by George Wilson and Marvin Muennink and a two-run homer by John Faseler. They scored in every frame except the sixth.

Chapman's 3-0 lead vanished in the second inning when the Jaycees took advantage of Bill Hemby's wildness, putting together three walks, a double by Junior Nietenhoefer and a home run by William Grell for six runs. Chapman went ahead, 7-6, when they batted around in the fifth, added five runs in the sixth and another in the seventh.

SENATOR INGALLS' TRIBUTE TO GRASS

To the stockman, whose barren pastures have forced him to feed the cattle, the following prose poem will no doubt read like a song of thanksgiving praise for the returning of the grass following the recent rain.

The moment the slumbering grass begins to show a bit greener here and there where the sun reaches it, all the world is gladdened, because it means that the glorious and always beautiful springtime is approaching for her annual visit.

It is seldom that any one fully appreciates the vital importance of grass in the general plan of nature until they read this magnificent tribute uttered many years ago by the late Senator John J. Ingalls, of Kansas:

"Grass is the forgiveness of nature—her constant benediction. Fields trampled with battle, saturated with blood, torn with the ruts of cannon, grow green again with grass, and carnage is forgotten. Streets abandoned by traffic become grass-grown like rural lanes and are obliterated; forests decay, harvests perish, flowers vanish, but grass is immortal. Beleguered by the sullen hosts of winter, it withdraws into the impregnable fortress of its subterranean vitality and emerges upon the solicitation of spring. Sown by the winds, by wandering birds, propagated by the subtle horticulture of the elements, which are its minister and servants, it softens the rude outline of the world. Its tenacious fibers hold the earth in place, and prevent its soluble components from washing into the sea. It invades the solitude of deserts, climbs the inaccessible slopes and forbidding pinnacles of mountains, modifies climates and determines the history, characters and destiny of nations. Unobtrusive and patient, it has immortal vigor and aggression. Banished from the thoroughfare or the field, it bides its time to return and when vigilance is relaxed, or the dynasty has perished, it silently resumes its throne, from which it has been expelled but which it never abdicates. It bears no blazonry of bloom to charm the senses with fragrance or splendor, but its homely hue is more enchanting than the lily or the rose. It yields no fruit in earth or air, and yet should its harvest fail for a single year famine would depopulate the world."

NO INDIGNATION

Under the above caption, The Wall Street Journal gives the following example of how our government's fiscal policy affects business; read it and beware of how you make changes.

Says The Journal:

We have all grown so accustomed to taxes on everything that it is hard to sustain much indignation about any of them. But it always seemed to us that it was carrying things too far for the government to tax a man $2,000 for the privilege of being promoted.

Sometime back a staff member of this paper was transferred from one office to a better job in another. To accept the promotion, he had to sell the house he had lived in and buy one in his new community.

He had paid about $10,000 for his house back before the big inflation. He sold it for $18,000, a neat looking profit of $8,000. A very happy circumstance, you might think, since he made all this "profit" by just living in the house.

It was a happy circumstance for the government, since the Treasury taxed him $2,000 for his capital "gain." But in spite of the $6,000 "profit" remaining, it proved no happy circumstance for the man promoted.

As it turned out, he had to pay $19,000 for his house in the new community, a house of the same size and approximate quality, because he happened to move in a period of rising prices. Furthermore, he had $2,000 less with which to pay $1,000 more for the same kind of housing.

So altogether our happy colleague paid $3,000 for the privilege of being promoted. His government's fiscal policy, which depreciates the dollar faster than a man can move, would have cost him $1,000 anyway. But not satisfied with that, the government's power to tax was used to penalize him $2,000 on a profit that never was.

Among his friends, as in Washington, there was much sad shaking of heads over this inequity. But no indignation, either here or there. Yet once, in sturdier times, some people started a revolution over no more than a penny's tax on the privilege of drinking tea.

Responsibility Should Be Shared

What are the responsibilities of the United States to the United Nations and of the United Nations to the United States? For obviously the relationship is not intended as a one-sided contract. But the question becomes important as you read the considered Canadian viewpoint presented by C. M. DeFieux, a Vancouver publisher.

Our Canadian colleagues share with President Truman conviction that the policies urged by Douglas MacArthur would place all of the member nations of U. N. in peril of war that they are not ready to fight. Because the overall policy in striving to limit the Korean war to peninsula scale has been adopted by U. N., Canada views MacArthur's objections as a walkout on that policy. If the mass of this country thinks the general is right, then we are arbitrarily exercising a form of veto on U. N.

This is a fair and accurate statement of the case. This brings us up to the other half of the question. What are U. N. responsibilities to this country?

When the President, with commendable force and celerity answered South Korea's plea for help against invasion under charter powers, he called on U. N. for the necessary assistance. That little practical help would be made available was evident in advance. U. N. said defense of South Korea was a U. N. act, but armed forces have yet to reach Korea or even to be offered in anywhere near the proper proportion that would make the casualties U. N. as well as U. S. It is mostly Americans who are doing the fighting and dying.

What Douglas MacArthur walked out on was not a U. N. policy but the callous sacrifice of American lives to it. He did not walk out on the battle. He was yanked out of that. But with all the means at his command, he opposed a bloody sacrifice of human lives to serve the cause of U. N. fear.

General MacArthur covered the point when in answer to a question from Senator Green he replied Thursday, "My hope would be that the United Nations would see the wisdom and utility of that course, but if they did not, I still believe that the interest of the United States, being the predominant one in Korea, would require our action... alone, if necessary."

It would not help the case to sacrifice Canadian, English, French and other lives in a more exact proportion to the same policy, but it would strengthen the rectitude of the position outlined by Mr. DeFieux. As it stands this country is left under the ineradicable impression that our U. N. colleagues are willing to contain the fighting to Korea until the last American soldier is dead. Well, after that eventuality, what?

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

"One For The Book"

Miss Reynolds, our town librarian, really put a smart-aleck motorist in his place last week—right in center of town, corner of Main and Walnut.

Her car stalled, tying up traffic. Most drivers just waited quietly—realizing she couldn't help it—but one fellow kept blaring away on his horn.

So Miss Reynolds gets out of her car, walks over and says sweetly, "I'm afraid I can't start my engine. If you'd like to try I'll stay here and lean on that horn for you." That stopped him!

From where I sit, a lot of us are sometimes a little overzealous to "sound off" before we really understand what it's all about. Let's try to see the other fellow's side in whatever he does—how he votes, what he thinks, whether his preference is for a glass of beer or buttermilk—rather than simply blast out anyone who "gets in the way" of our ideas in these matters.

J. A. SETS EXAMPLE FOR MEN IN OFFICE, ADMITS MISTAKE

Editor's note:

The Seco Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm seems to be changing his mind, his letter this week reveals. A mind like his ought to be changed occasionally. Dear editor:

I've been thinking all week about that letter I wrote last week, the one about pipin ocean water to every farm in Texas and solving the rainfall problem, and on second thought, the trouble with the world today is not enough people are big enough to admit they can be wrong, for example everybody seems to have gotten slipped up on when the Chinese jumped into the Korean war right when we'd been led to believe we had it won and the boys would be home by Christmas, last Christmas, that was, but you don't hear nobody coming in right flat out and saying he just made a plain bust; a Washington expert can guess wrong on somebody who later winds up in jail, but he won't have the spunk to admit he was 100 percent wrong, he spends his time trying to put the blame on somebody else for steering him wrong; what this country needs is more men with enough sense of humor to throw back their head and laugh at their own mistakes and then do their best to correct em. A few more men who admit they ain't infallible and if they're right once in a while it's a pretty good average. could be used practically everywhere today.

At any rate, as I started out to say, on second thought I have decided maybe it wouldn't be such a perfect idea to have salt-free ocean water piped to every farm in Texas.

It would be fine all right to sit on the front porch, throw a switch, and water your crops, but with the water meter tickin off the dollars, it would take a lot of pleasure out of it. Like it is, we may not always get enough rain, but what we do get is free.

Also, under the present system, the weather is one of the best friends a thinkin man has when it comes to thinkin up excuses for staying out of the field, no use plowin when rain is scarce, you'll dry out what moisture you got; no use plowing when it's wet, anybody knows that. But under the proposed new system, everything would be regulated, includin work-in hours, and if I wanted to work regular hours, I'd move to town.

When they start laying their waterpipes, they can just by-pass my farm. I was wrong last week. I made a bust. Move over, Truman, MacArthur, Marshall, Atlee, Taft, Hoover, Acheson, etc.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

In the Gas Business, too

IT TAKES MANY SOURCES OF SUPPLY

More than two hundred fields in Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Oklahoma supply the gas that moves through United's pipe lines. These many sources of supply not only assure dependable service for household and industrial uses today, but will provide a continuing supply for years to come in the more than 400 communities served by United Gas.

But our job doesn't stop there. We are looking to the future—to furnish natural gas wherever it is economically feasible to an ever-growing population, to additional cities and towns and to new industries locating in the Gulf South.

That's why we are continually seeking out and developing new sources of supply—to be sure there's natural gas available for new homes and industries built along the United Gas system this year—and in the years to come.

"UNFAIR, UNNECESSARY" SAYS BRISCOE OF GAS TAX INCREASE

"The administration - sponsored proposed gasoline tax is the insidious first step in the direction of a general sales tax upon the people of this state," Rep. Dolph Briscoe Jr., of Uvalde, said Wednesday. "The proposed tax on gasoline would raise the tax on gasoline by one cent per gallon, making a total of five cents per gallon, and would place an unnecessary burden on the tax payers of this state."

Briscoe, who is the leader of the "country boy" block in the House of Representatives, stated that he and his group are opposed to the Shivers' gasoline tax proposal. "When you levy an additional cent per gallon on gasoline you are reaching into the pocket of the farmer, school teacher, doctor, and every citizen who rides in automobile or city bus. I am basically opposed to this tax proposal."

"The proposed tax on gasoline is not only an unjust tax, but it is an unnecessary tax at this time," Briscoe asserted. "There is not one man or woman unwilling to pay his just share of taxes to support his state when it is necessary. The gasoline tax is not necessary at this time. The natural gas tax, which was passed by the House, is still awaiting action in the Senate. That tax bill is one which places a tax upon the natural gas, 62% of which leaves the state. This bill will place a tax on the out-of-State users where the tax rightfully belongs."

"I believe," Briscoe continued, "that Texas and Texans have been exploited long enough, and it is high time that the elected representatives of the people of Texas for a tax bill which will return to the state some of the revenue from the resources that are being depleted."

GOP Strategy

AT AN explosive Republican senatorial strategy meeting, the big GOP guns warned against using the Republican party too closely to MacArthur's kite.

One of those who led the warning was Senator Taft, whose friends have been worried that MacArthur might crowd him as the GOP presidential candidate in 1952.

"We don't know what MacArthur is going to say when he gets here," Taft told the strategy meeting. "As a political party we should keep out of this."

Senator Millikin of Colorado chimed in that occasionally past "conquering heroes" had come home and put their foot in their mouths. He recalled that Admiral Dewey, the conqueror of Manila, got a hero's reception and was presented with a free house, then transferred the house to his wife. Millikin also cited Charles Lindbergh, who came home to a hero's welcome and later made some remarks that offended religious groups.

However, the sharpest Republican fire was concentrated on Senator Cain of Washington for putting the Republican party on the spot with his resolution declaring war on China.

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, who has been Secretary of State Acheson's bitter foe, actually snorted: "As far as the Cain resolution is concerned, I am on Acheson's side."

Senator Young of North Dakota warned that declaring war on China would do "more damage than anything that has happened in the Republican party in five years."

Cain Argues

However, Cain tried to defend his position by arguing that his real purpose was to "pin this war on Truman as Truman's war."

He pointed out that the President in his April 11 speech mentioned war 21 times. However, Cain's colleagues failed to follow his reasoning.

In the end, Cain insisted that he had promised to introduce the resolution and intended to go through with it. However, he agreed to make a statement that his only purpose was to focus attention on the China issue, since Truman had already got the country into war.

The most explosive outburst of the closed-door meeting came from Indiana's wild Senator Jenner. He was spurred out of his seat by a remark from Senator Taft that "no responsible Republican senator would advocate impeachment."

To this Jenner shouted angrily: "I may not be part of the responsible Republican leadership, but I have my own opinion."

He demanded immediate impeachment of President Truman and used considerable profanity in demanding it.

Senator Ecton of Montana tried to soothe Jenner by explaining that it was up to the house to bring impeachment proceedings and the senate was supposed to act as a jury. Ecton cautioned that it would be improper for a senator who was supposed to sit on the jury to express advance opinions about impeachment.

Beating Enlisted Men

It has been hushed up by the navy, but the Norfolk, Va., shore patrol has been officially accused of kicking and beating servicemen and throwing them into the brig without their shoes.

These shocking charges were made in a confidential report by Rear Adm. F. N. Kivette, who was skipper of the aircraft carrier Midway until his promotion to admiral last month.

Kivette ordered his own investigation of the Norfolk shore patrol and sent a sharp report to the navy, charging that the Norfolk SP's were "arrogant, dictatorial, arbitrary, sometimes abusive and occasionally brutal."

Kivette's investigation was conducted by Ensign Robert E. Kenyon.

Commenting upon his subordinate's report, Admiral Kivette declared: "I believe these to be true and not isolated cases."

The admiral also added: "The very few but brief reports I have had concerning the condition of the shore patrol brig are calculated to induce nausea without a visual inspection."

Merry-Go-Round

Marriner Eccles, who has threatened to resign from the federal reserve board several times, now tells friends he has definitely made up his mind to leave the board on June 1. (A mistake—the government already is painfully short of good men.) . . . Al Hayes, president of the Machinists Union, is talking to other labor chiefs about publishing a daily labor newspaper. Jointly sponsored by the AFL and CIO, it would present the trade-union viewpoint on national issues.

Lloyd's letter

LOYD M. BENTSEN

When the President presented his budget estimate to the Congress; he said he dared the Congress to cut it. The Congress picked up the dare and whacked away.

A cut by both the House and the Senate opposed by your Congressman was the 90 per cent reduction on requested funds for the Voice of America.

The Russians have become masters of propaganda. They have become so adept at telling the big lie often enough that many of the world's people have swallowed the Communist line, awaking too late to do much about it.

This battle for the minds of men is just as important as victory on the battlefield. If you can win nations by telling them the truth, by breaking through the propaganda shroud of the Kremlin, then the battle is won without firing a shot.

America is a country of salesmen, super salesmen. We have developed advertising and salesmanship beyond any other nation. When it comes to selling toothpaste, soap, dog food and what not, nobody (to quote one of the nation's famous stores) can beat us.

But too long we have been content with the platitude "that these things we hold to be self evident" when we think of democracy. Self-evident to free men, certainly it is, but not to those who read and listen to a censored press and a censored radio. It's these people who must be reached. They must be told the true story of democracy. We have sold it to them just as we plan a campaign to sell any commodity in a new territory. We have to keep hitting it. To tell them truth again and again. To refute communism's lies again and again.

The amount sought to try to reach the minds of those behind the iron curtain was $97,500,000 less than the cost of our latest aircraft carrier. Must we depend entirely on military might to beat communism? I think we're wrong in overlooking means to expose the lines of the Kremlin to the Russian people and their satellites.

DEMOCRACY AT WORK
An impressive and striking example of democracy at work has been evidenced here during the last several weeks.

A military commander who disagreed with his commander-in-chief, the President, was fired by the President. Then he was provided with a plane, a publicity aide and a staff to return to his native land, to appear before its legislative body, to tell the people's representatives and the citizens just why he thinks the President is wrong.

Can you imagine this happening anywhere else? What a story to tell via the Voice of America to those in bondage behind the Iron Curtain. It takes events like these to remind us of the privileges we too often take for granted—just how wonderful it is to have a country where the government serves the people, not the people as the servants of the government.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sirs:

I am sending you my change of address for the home town paper which I enjoy reading very much each week down here in Georgia. As far as I know I will leave here around May 17 for A. P. O. From what I hear, most of New York will close on this day (May 21) as it has been declared Fourth Division Day.

Here's Where the Pounds Pay Off

FIRST thing that people notice when they take over a Buick is the sure-footed stance this fine automobile has on the road.

You head into a curve and hold firm and true. You travel a turnpike without sway or wander.

While your wheels may dance when you hit a stretch of washboard gravel—your car holds its level course.

A lot of things account for this beautifully poised performance, but it starts with stalwart structure and ample weight—plenty of pounds where pounds are needed.

Please don't get us wrong. This isn't "deadweight." Though a Buick like the one pictured here tips the scales at more than two tons, it's as nimble as an antelope at play.

It has a generous hoodful of valve-in-head Fireball power—packing a powerful punch of velvet velocity.

It comes with the smooth magic of Dynaflo Drive*—a lightness of steering that's gently responsive to a lady's hand—a front-end geometry that's pure genius—the finest brakes ever put on a Buick.

And every wheel rides on shock-eating coil springs that are carefree and trouble-free for the life of your car.

You'll also find—by a few moments of simple arithmetic—that the pounds in this bounteous beauty pay off in another way. On a cents-per-pound basis, it will cost less to buy than anything else near its weight and power and size.

Why not visit us real soon—like the first thing tomorrow—and let us show you why you and your budget will both be happy with this Buick?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

No other car provides all this:
